We Fittingly Enter the Second Week of Our Birthday Sale With

A Great Sale of Auction Silks

On last Wednesday, November 2, there was held in New York City, at the auction rooms of Townsend & Montant, 87 Leonard Street, a peremptory trade sale of Black, White, and Colored Fancy Silks, all this season's manufacture, the same being the stock of Ashley & Bailey Co., a firm recognized the land over as one of the leading lights in the silk world. Every season about this time they unload their surplus stock of Fall and Winter Silks and enter the campaign for next spring's business. There is no other reason why these high-grade Silks are sacrificed. They will be ready tomorrow morning at

ONE-THIRD, A HALF, and LESS THAN HALF REGULAR PRICES

In presenting this grand line of silks at such little prices we do so with the desire to make friends for this department for future business, hence we have disregarded profits on this transaction and will offer them at the prices knocked down to us, plus the actual expense we were subjected to. There are so many beautiful designs, exquisite shadings, that description is quite impossible. We call your attention, though, to a few numbers.

5,000 Yards Fancy Silks, 49c

5,000 yards of Fancy Silks, 69c and 75c value; fancy cords, moire silks, fancy louisines, and taffetas; strictly all silk and 20 inches wide.

ABSOLUTELY PURE WHISKIES.

The suggestion to put your faith in bottled-in-bond Whiskies may to the suspicious layman seem to have some value. It has none for the intelligent, honest dealer, may the brand be ever so well reputed. One batch of distillation always differs in quality from that of next day's output. The scrupulous, experienced dealer chooses from the purest batches. With him purity means clean, fragrant, ethereal expression and taste undiluted by even an atom of poisonous phlegm. The Government cannot vouchsafe this by its stamp, but attests simply date and strength of the distillation. Personally responsible for the purity of every bottle with his label, filled from the bulk of barrels of Whiskies (bearing the Government stamp) in his vast stock.

CHRIS. XANDER, 909 Seventh St.

has by an unblemished career of forty years of WHOLESALE trading acquired the fame that his Quality House is in this city the place, where the best of distillations and the purest only can be obtained. Of his standards the following are well known:

GOLD MEDAL RYE, 72.29 gal., 66 quart.
SPECIAL FAMILY RYE, six years, 83 gal., 75 quart.
OLD RESERVE, both Key and Bourbon, eight years, 41 gal., 31 quart.
(The former most popular among connoisseurs.)
OLD DIXIE RYE, twelve years, 85 gal., 11.25 quart. (Grandly mellow.)
OLD STOCK, sixteen years, 86 gal., 11.50 quart.
BELLE OF NELSON, eighteen years, 86 gal., 11.50 quart. (Peerless Bourbon.)
OLD PRIVATE STOCK, 8 gal., 12 quart.
NEW PLAT ULTRA, 80 gal., 12.50 quart.
RELIC OF THE CENTENNIAL, 82 gal., 13 quart. } Superior to the oldest extant.
